1 Language Packs Overview

Epygi IP PBXs and Gateways provide a set of language options in addition to the default English.

Upload a custom Language Pack (LP) to an Epygi device to support the specific language. Follow the steps below:

- Go to the Setup→Language Pack page for QX line or System→Upload Language Pack page for Quadro line.
- Browse the desired LP to start uploading.

Please Note: Once the LP is uploaded, the device will automatically reboot and the connected IP phones will reboot as well.

All Epygi supported custom LPs will change the system voice messages to the custom language. Some of LPs will change the device management GUI and the GUI on supported IP phones connected to the device as well (see Table 1 and Table 2).

Please Note: Only one custom LP can be uploaded and used concurrently with the default English. Uploading a new custom LP will remove the existing one (if already installed) and will reboot the device.

Switch the voice messages to the custom language from:

- The Setup→Basic Setup→System Configuration Wizard page for QX line
- The System→System Configuration Wizard for Quadro line

Change the language of the GUI session from:

- The device GUI Login page and the main menu for QX line
- The device GUI Login page for Quadro line

The tables below give the following information regarding all currently available Epygi supported custom LPs:

- Version – the language pack version.

Please Note: Epygi tries to work with channel partners to maintain the LPs and upgrade to the latest release given the particular demand for the LP. Maintenance of a LP is not guaranteed.

Please Note: LP created on a software release that is older than the software that is currently installed on the device will function, but any voice prompts that have been added or modified on the higher software release will be in English.

- Components included in a language pack – as mentioned above a LP can contain any of the following components (Table 1 and Table 2):
 - Voice messages,
 - GUI support,
 - Online help,
 - Supported IP phones language packs (IP phone LP) – capability of changing supported IP phones' GUI language to the language of the installed LP.

Table 1 presents the components that are changed after uploading a custom LP.
